Other Highlights

- The DWU women's soccer team received the National Soccer Coaches Association Award (NSCAA) for 2007.
- In 2008, Dakota Wesleyan qualified for its first-ever Great Plains Athletic Conference Postseason Tournament thanks to an 8-8-2 regular season record. It was the first postseason appearance of any kind for DWU.
- The Tigers rewrote their record book in 2008 by breaking or tying 15 team and individual records. In fact, the team's total of eight wins was more than the total of the program's first three seasons.
- Goalie Danielle Richardson earned the program's first GPAC Player-of-the-Week honor during the 2008 season during a stretch where she recorded five shutouts in six games. Richardson and Ellie Peterson, who broke school records for goals and points in a seasons, also became the program's first All-GPAC Second-Team selections.
