About the database

PsycARTICLES, from the American Psychological Association (APA), is a definitive source of full-text, peer-reviewed scholarly and scientific articles in psychology. The database contains more than 137,000 articles from 66 journals - 50 published by the APA, and its imprint the Educational Publishing Foundation (EPF), and from allied organizations including the Canadian Psychology Association and Hogrefe Publishing Group. (description from <http://www.ebsco.hostcom>)

After logging in OFF CAMPUS—Select PsycARTICLES from the database collection list, and click the Continue button to begin.

ADVANCED SEARCH

Step 1) Enter your search term(s) in the text boxes. Use a separate box for each term or phrase — terms entered in a single box will be treated as a phrase.

Use Limiters, found below the search interface, to narrow the results returned.

- Click the Search button after you have entered your search term(s) and selected limits.

Step 2) When results display, Narrow your search—use the options to the left to further focus your search using the subject headings (assigned to each article).

Step 3) If one of the following icons appears beneath a citation, the full article content is available:

Use Exclude non-article content to limit your search to journal articles

Exclude Book Reviews	<input type="checkbox"/>
Exclude Non-Article Content	<input type="checkbox"/>

CITATION VIEW FEATURES

Print, Email, Save, Cite, etc.

When viewing an article citation, you may choose to print or email the article, citation or abstract immediately, create a citation for your bibliography, export to a third-party citation product, or save the item to your folder for later use.

Click Help to view a topical list of assistance pages with screen shots and step by step directions. A link to Help will always appear in the upper right corner of your screen.

My EBSCO

Create your own EBSCO account within any EBSCO collection, and store located information (citations, searches, journal alerts) from one search session to another.

Your MyEBSCO account allows you to store located articles, images, videos, searches results, etc. for all EBSCO collections. You can also set up search alerts and journal alerts, both of which utilize an email notification feature. For more information, contact a librarian.

If the full text of an article is not available, you may complete an Interlibrary Loan request.

For information on submitting interlibrary loan requests electronically, see:
